

Amanda Ronchi is an experienced professional in the events industry. She has worked at Fete Music Hall, Foxwoods Resort Casino and is presently leading a community nonprofit performance arts venue, the Greenwich Odeum in East Greenwich, RI. At the Odeum, Amanda leads a team of staff and volunteers, handles all of the marketing initiatives and works closely with the Odeum's Board of Directors on fundraising efforts. Amanda is also involved with the National Independent Venue Association where she serves as the Secretary for the New England Chapter.

She is honored to be a part of the Haven Box Board of Directors and contribute to such important work.

Originally from Brazil, Amanda moved to Providence in 2001 where she presently resides. During her free time, she enjoys attending live music shows, reading, going to the beach and traveling.